

The Premier Certification Organization for Safety and Protective Products

December 2008 – New SEI Website

New SEI Website Introduced

Welcome to the new SEI website!! If you are a frequent visitor of our website you will notice a number of new website tools and navigation improvements, as you review the new site. Based on your feedback, the website has been improved, while maintaining those features that you have found very useful over the years. Some of these features, such as searching the SEI Certified Products List, remain exactly the same, while other features such as website navigation have been enhanced, making it more convenient to find information. The site has also been designed to make new upgrades to the site much easier. Changes can be made based on your feedback, so please let us know how you like the new site. You can send an email directly to Bill Fithian at bfithian@seinet.org outlining any observations, issues or suggestions.

Participant / Staff Access Section Scheduled for 2009

This will be an entirely new section that will provide SEI participants, laboratories and auditors with access to tools, documentation, and resources frequently requested. This area will be password protected and will include many new features, previously unavailable to SEI participants. Our goal is to ultimately provide a secure and efficient mechanism for processing some of the certification program requirements electronically. Specific details will be provided at a later date, with a formal announcement sent to all SEI participants once the section is available for use.

Happy Holidays

The entire SEI staff wishes you and your family a safe and happy holiday. A special "Thank you" goes out to all of our customers who participated in the SEI Certification Program in 2008, we truly appreciate the opportunity to work with you and look forward to continuing with you in 2009 and beyond. For those who are considering SEI for their certification needs, please do not hesitate to call with any questions, we want to do whatever we can to guide you through the process.

Once again, "Thank you", and we wish you all the best for the coming year!!
